

Xiaohong Zhang's Academic Biography

Xiaohong Zhang works at School of Mathematics and Data Science, Shaanxi University of Science and Technology (SUST). He is the director of China-Canada Research Center on Data

Intelligence and Three-way Decision at SUST. He graduated from Northwestern Polytechnical University in November 2005 with a Doctor of Engineering degree in Computer Software and Theory. He has published more than 100 international journals papers. His current research interests include non-classical logics, algebras, fuzzy sets, rough sets, data intelligence and decision-making theory. He currently assumes a member of a council of Chinese Association for Artificial Intelligence (CAAI), the associate director of Professional Committee on Artificial Intelligence Foundation of CAAI.